McCarthy, Watkins Row Over FBI Letter

Committee Rules On Use Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) made an impassioned effort to get his controversial "FBI letter" into the record of his public hearing Thursday in a heated exchange that saw McCarthy rise and turn his back on the investigating senators for a few tense seconds.

Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) ruled, after sternly silencing the Wisconsin senator, that the special committee would decide Friday whether to look at the disputed 22-page document despite a ruling by Atty. Gen. Brownell that it would be against the public interest for it to be disclosed.

McCarthy changed his mind and moved to get the "letter" into the record only a few hours after announcing he was abandoning further efforts to defend himself against a charge that the document—based on secret FBI material—came into his possession illegally.

The Wisconsin senator said through his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, that a committee ruling limiting the evidence he could offer made it impossible for him to make a defense on that charge—or to complete his answer to another charge that he incited federal workers illegally to pass him other such secret material.

Later, however, Williams announced he would try to disprove an allegation growing out of the senator's possession of the "FBI letter"—a charge that it is a "spurious" or phony document.

Williams contended, with McCarthy interposing vigorous agreement, the only way to disprove this charge would be for the document to be put in evidence so the committee members could read it.

His voice rising excitedly, McCarthy declared he had "every reason to believe this was and is a copy of a document in the Army files." He went on to declare it proves the Army had FBI warnings "year after year" of a danger to security at the nation's secret radar laboratories.

"Just a minute," Watkins interrupted sharply. He told McCarthy not to continue along that line until the committee had made its decision.

Interne's Death From Anesthesia Could Be Prank

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Medical Examiner Joseph Omsky said Thursday that Dr. John Landrum Bobo Jr., 33, a Jefferson Hospital intern who died Aug. 3 of an overdose of anesthesia may have been the victim of a "prank played by someone."

Omsky made the comment while presiding at an inquest. He announced a verdict afterwards that Dr. Bobo's death was the result of "an unknown cause" but "was not intentional on his part."

"We can eliminate suicide," Omsky said. He added that the case now is "closed" but could be reopened at any time if additional information is obtained.

Dr. Bobo of Bishopville, S. C., was found dead on an operating room table at the hospital with an anesthetic mask held to his face. Colleagues said later he may have been experimenting to learn at first hand the effect of the anesthetic or might have been allergic to the gas.

Omsky said today that if Bobo was the victim of a prank "it was not done with any intention of harming the young doctor, but in the spirit of fun."

"If there was one—evidently did not realize the nature of cyclopropane, the anesthetic gas."

"Whether someone else was involved in the death, or it was accidental, is not known at this time," the medical examiner announced.

Asked for comment on the medical examiner's remarks, a spokesman for Jefferson Hospital issued this statement:

"Based on all the evidence available to the hospital administration and on the intimate knowledge gained over many years of the activities of interns and the hospital procedures, we do not believe that Dr. Bobo was the victim of a prank."

FRANCE REPAYS BRITAIN

PARIS (AP)—The French Treasury has repaid a 10-year-old loan of 26 million dollars to Great Britain, the weekly statement of the Bank of France showed Thursday.

Meek, Douglas Hit Campaign Trail

Favors Free Ag Markets

LA SALLE, Ill. (AP)—Only free markets operating according to the laws of supply and demand can bring a prosperous farm economy, Joseph T. Meek said Thursday night.

In an address prepared for a meeting of members of the 15th Congressional District Committee, the Republican nominee for the Senate said that acreage controls "are most harmful to the small farmer, for whom the New Fair Deal wept crocodile tears most copiously."

"All leaders of the major farm groups agree that regimentation is bad for agriculture, despite the sugar coating of subsidies," Meek said. "The socialization of agriculture attempts to accomplish what only free markets operating according to the law of supply and demand can bring—a prosperous farm economy."

Farmers applaud the moves of the Eisenhower administration, Meek said, "to turn agriculture to a free enterprise system as surely and rapidly as it is feasible."

Arrest Man Flying Rig Held Up By Gas-Filled Balloons

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A part-time hypnotist with an urge for a trip into the sky was in jail Thursday night after a flight in a homemade rig suspended from 60 gas-filled balloons.

Garrett Cashman, 26, of Albany, was arrested by state police and arraigned before Peace Justice George Biesbee in the nearby town of Guilfordland on a charge of flying without a license.

Cashman pleaded innocent, and was remanded to Albany County jail in lieu of $100 bail.

Biesbee said he had scheduled a hearing for Cashman for Sept. 17.

Earlier Thursday, Cashman spent about an hour and a half soaring about 21 miles from a field in Westmere, in the town of Guilfordland about six miles west of here, to a farm at a highway intersection near Valatie, about 15 miles south of Albany.

U.S. HAS DOCTOR FOR EVERY 730 PERSONS

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Medical Assn. said Thursday the United States has reached a record ratio of one doctor for every 730 persons. The country's physician population was placed approximately 220,100 with the 1953-54 graduation of a record 6,861 doctors, the association said.

Farm Vote Is Not For Sale To Highest Bidder; Benson

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said Thursday the farm vote isn't "for sale to the highest bidder." He called for support of the administration's flexible price support program as the one which will "help keep America strong."

In his first major speeches in his native state since becoming secretary, Benson told Republican rallies here and in Twin Falls that he hopes for an eventual end to acreage controls under flexible supports.

He called for the reelection of Sen. Henry Dworshak and Rep. Hamer Budget. Their Democratic opponents, former Sen. Glen Taylor and William P. Whitaker, respectively, have pegged farm prices as a prime campaign issue in predominantly agricultural Idaho.

"If we want to keep America strong, we cannot afford the luxury of paying huge sums in tax dollars for programs that do not accomplish the jobs for which they are intended," Benson said at Twin Falls, center of the state's richest irrigated farm area. "It is just as

Cites Battle For Economy

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Sen. Paul Douglas said Thursday night the big question in the current Illinois election campaign is "whether the people or the selfish interest will win."

"During my six years in the Senate I have served the people," said Douglas, Democratic nominee for reelection, in a talk prepared for a party rally. "I have fought for economy and against waste. I have directly saved the taxpayer over a billion dollars. I have worked for small business, the housewife, the farmers, the consumers, the wage earners, and the white-collar salary earners."

"The leadership of the Republican party in this state and my opponent are basically the servants of the selfish interests."

Douglas said that he, as a Democrat, supports two basic policies of President Eisenhower "far more vigorously than do my opponent and the Republican leaders of Illinois." He listed those as the President's foreign policy and his program of social legislation.

However, Douglas said he disagreed with some acts of the Republican administration. Those included "reductions in the U. S. Air Force, the cut in the strength of the Army and diplomatic mistakes which were partially responsible for the loss of Indo-China and the serious weakening of the European Defense Community."

Chicago Seeks Writ Against Milwaukee In Diversion Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Sanitary District Thursday authorized its president to seek possible legal action against Milwaukee in the fight over diversion of Lake Michigan water.

A resolution adopted by the district board declared the residents of Chicago draw their drinking water from the lake, have spent 400 million dollars to protect it from pollution and added that "certain cities on the Great Lakes, notably Milwaukee, Wis., have inadequate sewage disposal systems and consistently pollute the waters."

The measure authorized Anthony A. Ols, board president, to confer with Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois about legal action, possibly a writ, designed to block the alleged pollution.

Last week Ols announced he would act against Milwaukee because, he said, interests there had influenced President Eisenhower to veto a bill which would have increased diversion of Lake Michigan water through the Chicago Sanitary District canal. The amount of diversion is fixed by law.

The new division of districts would be the first since 1901, if it is approved by voters Nov. 2. The Democratic state convention opens Monday in Chicago.

Top officials of both parties have voiced support of the proposal. Added impetus would be given to support groups if the Democratic convention goes behind the proposal, as Lynch said it will.

Lynch predicted that opposition from downstate will be withdrawn and both parties will unite in an effort to get the proposal approved.

However, some leaders supporting the proposal expressed concern for its success and Thursday urged renewed activity in its behalf.

Still, Richard J. Daly, Democratic Cook County chairman, and Edward F. Moore, the GOP chairman, said that as far as organizational activity is concerned there will be no substantial defections within their organizations.

U.S. AID TO LIBYA DOUBLED

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—United States aid to Libya in return for military bases is to be doubled, Prime Minister Mustafa Ben Halim said Thursday.

Ben Halim said a new U.S.-Libyan agreement was signed providing for two million dollars a year for the military rights, instead of one million.

Union Official Tells Jury Of Racket Setup

CHICAGO (AP)—A tough-talking veteran union official Thursday said he told "the whole story" to a federal grand jury probing alleged labor racketeering and that he wasn't afraid of any retaliation.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Raymond Muller said Harry Burger, organizer for the AFL Teamsters Union in the New Orleans area, "told us the entire setup of mob influence in the Chicago labor picture."

Details of Burger's testimony were not made public. Muller said Burger will appear before the jury for further testimony. Burger was an unexpected witness. He was flown from New Orleans.

For almost 20 years Burger was an international representative in Chicago for the teamsters union. It claims a membership of 125,000. He was first sent here in 1933 by Daniel J. Tobin, international president.

In 1932, Tobin—who had held office for 45 years—was challenged by Dave Beck at the international convention. Burger backed Tobin. Joseph (Joey) Gimco, a reputed power in the teamsters and other unions, supported Beck, who was elected international president.

Thereafter, according to Burger, he was shifted to Milwaukee and then to New Orleans in the lesser job of organizer.

The jury investigation is principally into the activities of Gimco, 45, who allegedly muscled into unions and became a czar in the Fulton street and South Water street poultry markets.

Demote Officer For Crack Down On Bingo Games

NEW YORK (AP)—A high police officer who tried to crack down on church bingo games was demoted Thursday. He immediately applied for retirement after 36 years of service.

With tears in his eyes, Louis Goldberg, 61, told reporters, "My sincerity, honesty and loyalty that I have given to the Police Department and the City of New York have not been recognized."

Goldberg, who had held the high rank of deputy chief inspector, was broken to captain by Police Commissioner Francis H. Adams.

Adams insisted it was for insubordination. But he said he personally thought the gambling laws should be relaxed to allow bingo games for charitable purposes. They had been winked at by Brooklyn authorities until Goldberg started his drive.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner backed up Adams.

Goldberg Wednesday night walked into a big Knights of Columbus hall and told the operators to call off a bingo game for 1,000 women. He halted games at two Roman Catholic churches and at an Evangelical and Reformed Church as well.

Adams said Goldberg failed to keep his superiors informed of his bingo activities and that was the reason for the demotion.

State Democrats Will Support Reapportionment

CHICAGO (AP)—State Sen. William M. Lynch, chairman of the Democratic platform committee, said Thursday the Democratic state convention will support a proposal to reapportion the state's legislative districts.

The new division of districts would be the first since 1901, if it is approved by voters Nov. 2. The Democratic state convention opens Monday in Chicago.

Top officials of both parties have voiced support of the proposal. Added impetus would be given to support groups if the Democratic convention goes behind the proposal, as Lynch said it will.

Lynch predicted that opposition from downstate will be withdrawn and both parties will unite in an effort to get the proposal approved.

Alert Carolinas Against Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The coasts of North Carolina and South Carolina were alerted Thursday night against a possible blow from hurricane Edna which whirled its 116-mile winds some 230 miles east of Daytona Beach.

The center of the storm was 330 miles southeast of Charleston, S.C., and 420 miles from Cape Hatteras, N. C.

Cecil Gentry, storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, said the big tropical blow apparently will bypass Florida and most likely will skip the Georgia coast.

Because it is so close to land, however, it was considered advisable to alert the Carolinas, he said.

The whirling storm was creeping northward at only five to six miles an hour with the area of violent winds still expanding.

The hurricane, named Edna for the fifth letter of the alphabet, is the season's fifth tropical storm.

Reds Threatened To Kill Fleming. Officer Testifies

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (AP)—A defense witness testified Thursday a North Korean colonel once threatened to kill Lt. Col. Harry Fleming for resisting the Communists.

Fleming, 46, of Racine, Wis., is being tried by an Army general court-martial on charges of collaborating with the Reds while a prisoner of war in Korea. Fleming's defense began after the prosecution included six days of testimony from former fellow captives of the defendant.

One of the first defense witnesses, Maj. Clifford Allen, 34, of Los Angeles, testified a Red POW camp commander, Col. Kim Dong Suk, summoned Fleming and Allen to Kim's office after the American officers had refused to comply with Kim's demand that they collaborate in writing a Red propaganda article.

"Kim pulled his gun and said he was going to shoot us dead because we were influencing the other prisoners," the witness testified.

"We told him: 'Well, then we'll be dead. Let it go at that.'"

Allen said the Red officer clamed down then and sent the Americans back to their camp. He said the incident occurred either in April or May 1951.

Allen said Fleming "was always trying to obtain better facilities for the men in the camp."

"The witness testified that Fleming 'was very forceful with our captors on behalf of the other prisoners,' and that 'he went as far as he could considering his position.'"

The Army's charges against Fleming include an accusation that he participated in tape-recorded "appeals" broadcast by the Reds which called for withdrawal of American troops from Korea.

Fleming's defense is that any questionable acts he may have committed in captivity were for the benefit of his fellow prisoners.

Atomic Warfare To Require More Soldiers; Ridgway

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the face of announced plans to reduce U.S. Army manpower by 22 per cent, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said Thursday atomic age warfare probably will require more soldiers instead of fewer.

And in another atomic military development, the Navy announced the world's first atomic-powered submarine, the Nautilus, will formally join the fleet in commissioning ceremonies Sept. 30.

Ridgway, Army chief of staff, hit at a widely held notion that increased firepower of atomic weapons might lessen the need for foot soldiers.

"On the contrary, there are indications that the trend will be in the opposite direction," he said in an address to the National Security Industrial Assn., an organization of more than 600 defense industries.

"Although combat units undoubtedly will be smaller, more mobile and more compact, the dispersion in defense more pronounced, there will be a corresponding increase in the depth of the battlefield."

Episcopalian Boy Repairs Clock In Methodist Church

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Allen Barringer is a boy with a nice sense of timing. Like other 11-year-olds, he likes to see what makes things tick, only more so. His hobby is clocks.

So it was natural that Allen took note of the steeple clock at Pace Memorial Methodist Church in his neighborhood. Its four faces looked out majestically from a height of 100 feet but its hands were still and its silent machinery yielded neither tick nor tock.

The Rev. Joseph F. White told Allen a clockmaker said it would cost about $2,000 to put the steeple clock in order. He said also the clock hadn't run since he became the church's pastor six years ago.

Allen clambered to the clock tower on his biggest assignment. He found the trouble was mainly a couple of bent shafts which yielded readily to straightening efforts. Like other 11-year-olds, he likes to see what makes things tick, only more so. His hobby is clocks.

The boy's father, John Barringer, a telephone company official, didn't seem surprised that Allen repaired the clock. He seemed pleased that Allen was doing a bit of field work.

"He's been driving us crazy at home fixing old clocks," said Barringer. "Mrs. Barringer says there's so much ticking she can hardly get to sleep."

Last Sunday, the grater pastor based his sermon on Allen's good deed. Allen wasn't there to hear it, though. The Barringers are members of an Episcopal church nearby.

WOUNDED NATIONALIST—A Nationalist Chinese soldier (foreground) who was wounded during the recent shelling of Quemoy Island by Red Chinese artillery, arrives at Taipei, Formosa, for transfer to a hospital. Two American officers, members of the U.S. Military Assistance Group to the Nationalist Government stronghold, were killed in the initial shelling.

Rockets, Fire Bombs Blast Red China Coast

TAIPEH, Formosa (Friday) (AP)—Nationalist China, cheered by encouraging words from Secretary of State Dulles, struck with rockets and napalm fire bombs Thursday at the Red coast opposite Formosa.

As Dulles wound up a quick visit and went on to Tokyo, the Nationalists announced that for the fourth straight day planes and warships had blasted the Red military buildup near Quemoy. Quemoy, Nationalist stronghold 120 miles across from Formosa, is only 6 miles from the Red island base of Amoy.

An air force announcement made no damage claims. But it said the planes attacked military targets ashore and Communist junks among the "islands" near Amoy, which has been battered by bombs and artillery.

The air force asserted its bombers dominated the air in Fukien Province, of which Amoy is a part, and Chekiang Province to the north. There has been no mention of recent action over Chekiang.

The MIG jets which the Chinese Communists have been reported massing in Chekiang Province have been strangely missing from the Quemoy front.

The Defense Ministry said warships again bombarded Amoy and nearby Wuyi Island while the air force was cutting loose with its deadly fire bombs.

Dulles' brief pause here on his way to Tokyo from the Manila conference aroused fresh hope and confidence among the Nationalists. They were particularly pleased by his statement, read at the airport on his arrival, that "he shall not be intimidated" by Red threats of invading Formosa. The U.S. 7th Fleet guards this island bastion against invasion.

Dulles went straight from the airport to a conference with President Chiang Kai-Shek. He exchanged views with him for more than three hours. It was the first time a U.S. secretary of state had visited China.

Careful observers said Dulles' statement at the airport indicated the United States and Nationalist China are working hand-in-hand and that the United States regards the Nationalist attacks in the Quemoy area as legitimate action.

According to this thinking should the Reds try to invade Quemoy and fail, they are less likely to try to attack Formosa which, in present circumstances, would bring the 7th Fleet into the picture.

Thousands Reported Injured

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—A wall-tumbling earthquake struck northern Algeria before dawn Thursday, demolished a fifth of the city of Orleansville, and by unofficial count killed at least 800 persons. Some victims were buried in their beds.

Some estimates put the death toll from North Africa's worst earthquake in 40 years as high as 1,000. The list of injured was expected to run into the thousands.

The smashing of telephone and telegraph lines made a check on casualties difficult. One report said in Orleansville, a modern city built in 1843 on Roman colonnades runs 100 miles southwest of Algiers, 200 were killed and 1,000 injured.

No complete count was expected for several days.

The violent quake hit at 1:01:57 a.m. and lasted only 12 seconds. It caught residents of whole towns and villages asleep. Several villages near Orleansville were virtually wiped out.

There are no U.S. military bases in Algeria, which is classified as a department—roughly equivalent to a state—of France. There are several important U. S. air bases in adjoining French Morocco, a French protectorate, which is well outside the quake area.

Reports from Orleansville, population 32,500, said the quake created appalling terror. Many frightened residents stampeded into the dark streets, only to be crushed by falling bricks and stones.

The army barracks, stadium, post office, prison, hospital, two hotels, police headquarters, and a new Roman Catholic cathedral were either smashed or heavily damaged. The small Lamartine Dam nearby was cracked, flooding the airport area and hampering the airlifting of relief supplies. Until daylight the only light for rescue operations came from the eerie flames of buildings which caught fire.

Forty guests at the Hotel Baudouin were buried alive in their beds when the building collapsed. The area worst hit extends from Orleansville 24 miles north to its port, Tenes, on the Mediterranean, thence about 50 miles east to Milliana. Smaller shocks were felt in the area throughout the early morning, and tremors were reported around noon at the town of Duplex.

French authorities from Oremier Pierre Mendes-France down coordinated relief measures. French and Algerian troops and medical services from Algiers and Oran, Algeria's two largest cities, were

Editorial Comment

THE 83RD CONGRESS

Though the air is filled with partisan boasts and criticisms of the performance of the 83rd Congress, most impartial observers are concluding that its record was on the whole a creditable one.

Certainly the 83rd was one of the hardest working assemblies since the marathon sessions of World War II. For the first time in a good while, Congress made a greater impact with legislation passed than with things and people investigated.

That is no small achievement when the Army-McCarthy hearings, the Reece inquiry into foundations and countless other investigations are taken into account.

Being a Republican Congress under a Republican President, this one must be gauged partly by what it did with President Eisenhower's legislative proposals. The White House claim of an .830 batting average may be somewhat extravagant, but it is clear the President did get a good share of his program enacted.

On the domestic side, Congress enacted the first flexible farm price support plan that seems to have a chance of being enforced. It approved broader and better social security coverage, a relative limited health program, and measures for hospital construction, vocational rehabilitation and unemployment insurance on an improved scale.

It put through a general tax revision measure long overdue, for the nation's tax structure had grown up hodge-podge style and needed revamping to wipe out inequities and discouragements to incentive.

Less satisfactory was the new housing law, which fell well short of Mr. Eisenhower's requests in the public housing field. And, of course, Congress made no changes in the Taft-Hartley Act, even though the late Senator Taft himself had earlier proposed nearly 30 modifications in that basic labor law.

Other impressive work was the passage after long years of bitter controversy of the St. Lawrence Seaway project, and the adoption of a modernized atomic energy law giving private enterprise some role in future development and our allies more access to necessary atomic information.

Congress maintained the continuity of foreign aid, though it chopped the President's requests considerably. It extended the Reciprocal Trade Act for another year, after Mr. Eisenhower gave up trying for a three-year renewal this time, coupled with other liberalizing trade features. These he will seek in 1955.

Perhaps the greatest single disappointment from the Administration's view was the failure to enact statehood for Hawaii. This was killed when the Senate insisted on linking it with Alaskan statehood.

But on balance the showing was good. This Congress had a sharp eye for economy, voting $5.5 billion less in 1954 than it did in 1953, and about $26 billion less than the Democratic 82nd Congress. Its coloring was conservative in most areas of effort. Yet the significant thing is that there was effort.

Critics will have many things to say of the 83rd. But they will be laughed off the platform if they call it a "do-nothing" Congress. It did plenty.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. McCarthy said "I felt that . . ."

Sen. Watkins cut him short. "Let's not get into what you felt," said Watkins.

In a sentence Watkins pointed up the difference between last spring's televised McCarthy-Armey hearings and the present untelevised hearings by a Senate committee on demands that McCarthy be censured for his official conduct.

The Wisconsin Republican is in an icebox Washington has been sweating in a savage burst of summer. But the caucus room, where the present hearings are held, is cold. It's not the temperature. It's the attitude.

The committee of six senators, sitting across a long table from McCarthy, look at him as coolly and impassively as if he were a stranger. They do not appear hostile. They seem impersonal.

It apparently has been enough to chill McCarthy. Chairman Watkins dignified, white-haired Utah Republican and onetime judge, sat repeatedly before these hearings began he would conduct them like an examination in a courtroom.

McCarthy tried once on Watkins what he did so many times successfully to Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), chairman of the McCarthy-Armey hearings: he tried to interrupt Watkins bawled him into silence with his gavel.

McCarthy hasn't tried it again. Since he emerged into national prominence four years ago, McCarthy has been the center of an emotional thunderstorm. The best illustration is the intense feeling he has aroused in friend and foe.

In the hearings on his fight with the Army, McCarthy interrupted as he pleased, made speeches, new charges, fresh attacks and occasionally produced a sensation. Emotion was the steady thread through those rough-and-tumble days.

And upon occasion in those hearings McCarthy's voice vibrated with emotion. That kind of voice in the new hearings would seem out of place.

Watkins made it clear his committee wanted facts and evidence, not emotion in and emotion and personal feelings checked outside. For the first week these hearings were enormously dull as the committee attorney droned evidence from past proceedings into the record.

Wednesday for the first time McCarthy took the stand in his own defense. The television audience which watched him last spring would have been astonished at the difference: the low voice, the "yes, sir" and "no, sir," the subdued voice, the lack of protest at interruptions.

It isn't Watkins alone who insisted that McCarthy keep personal feelings out of the hearings. Other committee members rapped him too, if gently.

At one point in his testimony Wednesday, when McCarthy began drawing conclusions from what he had just said, Sen. Ervin (D-NC) broke in.

He told McCarthy: "Let us draw our own conclusions."

Again when McCarthy drew conclusions, which has been a regular practice with him, Sen. Case (R-S.D.) cut in with: "Let's get the evidence and let the committee draw the conclusions."

But the coldness of these hearings isn't directed at McCarthy alone. It pervades the caucus room and extends to the members of the committee too in their relations with one another.

When Case tried to interrupt McCarthy's lawyer, Edward B. Williams, Watkins, icily polite to everyone, stopped him in mid-flight. "Mr. Case," he said, "will you wait a moment until Mr. Williams has finished?"

Case said he would, and did.

Editor, Jacksonville Journal Courier, Dear Sir:

Read your editorial on the "State's Obligation" with reference to the contaminated open sewer (called Mauvaisterre Brook) which traverses Jacksonville, and it was nicely put.

Kindly be advised that the refuse in this sewer is not entirely from the bog farm at the State Hospital.

I congratulate my aideman, Jack Matthews, for taking the initiative to try and remedy this blight and have asked him to witness the mess in this stream where it is crossed by South Church street near West Chambers. This definitely is a direct obligation of the Jacksonville City Council.

Cordially, S. T. Ritchie.

John Charles ("What's My Line") Daly has two sons, both named John. He has a brother named John. They solve the problem around John's house by calling the younger John "Charlie."

The boys are 16 and 13 respectively, and both taller than John, who is 6-feet-1. In addressing him, they say "sir," which is a refreshing thing to hear when you read about teen-agers in the papers these days. He reciprocates by treating them as adults on a man-to-man basis.

There are also two ladies around the house. Helene, otherwise "Bunnie," is 9. Margaret, nickname of "Kit," is the handsome ex-Washington girl who changed John's life.

He was learning to be a wool merchant in Boston when he met her some 17 years ago. She was living in Washington and John tried courting by commuting, but couldn't afford it. So he gave up the rams and lambs and got a job as a bus dispatcher in the capital. He went into radio there.

As you may know, very few announcers are capable of talking into a "hot mike" — meaning to talk without a script, simple describing an event as it unfolds. Daly is one who can. He got his training the hard way — covering such exciting events as the birth of a penguin, the annual marble-shooting tournaments, and an occasional fence-whitewashing contest.

Thus, Daly once stood in front of an open mike and talked about nothing for 39 minutes. It happened during the 1940 presidential campaign when FDR, due to a scheduled mixup, was late in starting a speech.

During the late unpleasantness in Europe, John was a pretty good war correspondent. He racked up a flossy beat on the fall of Messina, in Sicily, by talking the late Gen. Patton's personal pilot into flying him back to Algiers. You guys from the 3rd Division probably remember him.

He hasn't changed much since then. He still sleeps late, has a weakness for inside straight and holds his hand too long, waiting for gin. He has just turned 40 this summer.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P) — Ginger Rogers is leaping into television the hard way with a strenuous, hour-and-a-half live show.

After a couple of years of romancing with TV, the star is ready to go. She'll make her debut (except for an appearance on the Oscar telecast) on NBC Oct. 18. The show will be the first of the "spectaculars" produced by Leland Hayward. Show time is 8 o'clock and the layout is obviously designed to knock "I Love Lucy" out of its supremacy.

Ginger will appear in three plays from Noel Coward's "Tonight at 8:30," "Red Peppers," "Shadow Play" and "Still Life." The latter was the basis for the film, "Brief Encounter," and its star, Trevor Howard, will appear opposite Ginger.

Isn't she scared with such a heavy schedule? "No," she replied. "It means a lot of hard work. But then, I've never been allergic to work. The memorizing doesn't throw me, either. I have a habit of memorizing whole plays — so I can throw a cue if it is needed."

"The only thing that worries me is the changes of costumes. I don't see how I am going to get into so many outfits in an hour and a half. But I suppose they will figure it out."

I saw Ginger over breakfast coffee on the veranda of her hilltop Hills. She looked as youthful as ever and enthused about the activity of her career is enjoying.

"It never rains but what it pours," she said. "I'll sit around for months, and then suddenly I'll be so busy I don't know what to do."

Before leaving for New York and the TV show, she has to make a Columbia picture, "Dead Pigeon," in which she'll play a gal who comes out of prison to be a reluctant state's witness. After the TV show, she goes on the road for two weeks to help sell "Twist of Fate," which she made in England with her husband, Jacques Bergerac. Coming out at the same time will be her latest picture, "Black Widow," in which she plays her first killer.

She taught them about various types of breakfast how to plan a breakfast for themselves and how grain grows in the field and is processed into the breakfast cereals they need. She then encouraged the children to plan, prepare, serve and eat with enjoyment this type of basic breakfast: Orange juice, choice of a half-dozen, ready-to-eat cereals, hot chocolate with a marshmallow in it, or milk raisin bread with butter or margarine. Later, the cost of the breakfast was computed during arithmetic class.

Mrs. Wohltrend reports that the result was a group of children much more alert, easier to teach and rarely tired before lunch, as so many of the poor breakfast eaters had been.

She gave us a delicious quick-bread recipe, using breakfast cereal.

Poor Breakfast Habits Endanger Day's Stamina

SMILING HAPPILY, this nine-year-old prepares to dig into the breakfast he planned and prepared for himself. Encourage your children to plan their own breakfast.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Our 9-year-old son used to refuse to eat an adequate breakfast. He would come home from school tired and listless. But now he eats fruit juice, cereal with milk, sometimes an egg, bread, butter or margarine and always a tall glass of milk. And he enjoys it. He also comes roaring home from school ready for strenuous play.

What happened? Well his mother explained in simple terms the part citrus juice, cereals, protein and milk play in his growing up strong and being able to get better grades and win more games.

She took him to the market and taught him how to select the basic breakfast foods. He felt quite grown-up, being allowed to purchase what he needed for his own breakfast. He could purchase two or three different kinds of packaged cereal and alternate them as he chose, the type of bread he liked best.

In other words he learned to purchase and plan his own breakfast menu, and on certain occasions was allowed to get it for himself, particularly when he wanted to leave for school very early before the usual family breakfast hour.

In Fargo, N. D., at the Aarass School, Mrs. Nell Wohltrend followed much the same plan to make her pupils understand why a good breakfast keeps them healthy and able to learn easily.

She taught them about various types of breakfast how to plan a breakfast for themselves and how grain grows in the field and is processed into the breakfast cereals they need. She then encouraged the children to plan, prepare, serve and eat with enjoyment this type of basic breakfast: Orange juice, choice of a half-dozen, ready-to-eat cereals, hot chocolate with a marshmallow in it, or milk raisin bread with butter or margarine. New Plan Needed to Repair Ailing AEC Labor Relations

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Behind the past year's not-too-good labor relations record in government-owned atomic energy plants is a touchy personnel problem with overtones of union politics.

Fundamentally, the labor problem in atomic energy is that while the employees work for private industry contractors who operate the plants, the government has a vested national defense interest.

Strikes in atomic energy installations therefore can't be allowed. As President Eisenhower pointed out when he issued his most recent Taft-Hartley injunction order at Oak Ridge, Tenn., on Aug. 12.

During the war, atomic energy workers conceded that there could be no strikes in defense industries. But in 1948, Oak Ridge had the first atomic energy industry strike. It went the Taft-Hartley route. There was an 80-day injunction. Then, after a 50-hour negotiation session, Cyrus S. Ching, director of Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, got an agreement that sent the men back to work.

Mr. Ching saw that something special would have to be done to prevent strike recurrences. He therefore recommended to President Truman the appointment of a three-man atomic energy labor-management relations panel, reporting directly to the White House.

Head of this panel was Will H. Davis, former chairman of the War Labor Board and one of the most experienced labor relations men in the country. In return for this special consideration of their problems, the unions gave Davis a waiver on a no-strike pledge, and management gave a no-lockout pledge. It wasn't wholly effective, but it worked pretty well for five years.

When the Eisenhower administration came to town in 1953, members of the Davis panel submitted their routine resignations. They were accepted in March. For a time there was no labor-management panel.

When the White House reorganized the panel in July, Cyrus Ching was made its chairman. That was fine as far as it went, but for housekeeping purposes, this panel was put under Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in Department of Labor. This was in line with President Eisenhower's desire to decentralize his Administration and get a lot of time-consuming activities out of the White House.

In This Case, it didn't work. Call Ching as Director of the Federal petty personal pique on the part of the atomic energy labor union ice, was not continued in that post leaders if you will. But their gov- by the Eisenhower administration, erment panel had been down-grad. Now he's called back to handle its ed from the White House to a third-number one labor problem.

Something of this kind may be worked out to repair the damage to AEC labor relations since the old Davis panel was killed.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's designation of David L. Cole as head of a new five-man commission to study atomic labor relations is the first step in this direction. Cole, who succeeded Mr. Ching as Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was not continued in that post leaders if you will. But their gov- by the Eisenhower administration, erment panel had been down-grad. Now he's called back to handle its ed from the White House to a third-number one labor problem.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Dirt, Neglect, Shoes or Gloves Can Irritate Nails

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written For NEA Service

The nails of the fingers and toes reflect the state of general health and are also subject to particular diseases. They are often attacked by diseases which also involve the skin; they are subject to injury and may be sensitive to various chemicals. In general there is more trouble with them in the later years of life.

Thickening of the nails of either hands or feet is fairly common. With thickening the nails become dull colored and often are ridged or furrowed. In some cases horny outgrowths can appear which may be both long and thick.

THERE ARE MANY possible causes for such thickening. Irritation from neglect, dirt, or poorly-fitting shoes or gloves may be responsible.

Certain diseases of the internal glands which produce hormones sometimes cause thickened nails.

Another disease of the nails comes from inflammation around the base of the nail or the nail bed. This is the result of infection with germs and its common name is whitlow. A single nail may be involved or all of them. This results in ridging and sometimes the nail separates and falls off.

THE TREATMENT, of course, is to attack the infection. In extremely severe cases, the nail may have to be removed before the infection can be cleared up.

Splitting of one or all of the nails is a common complaint. It's cause is usually obscure. Ringworm can affect the nails and may be difficult to cure. Psoriasis is another skin disease which may cause nails to become pitted and deformed.

White points, spots or streaks can appear in the nails. Such conditions are most common in young people, and on the fingers rather than on the toes.

ALL THESE DISEASES of the nails require accurate diagnosis, but unfortunately many of them are difficult to cure. Irritation from nail polishes or lacquers is sometimes a fault.

In psoriasis, ringworm or eczema of the nails, treatment has to be aimed at the particular disease responsible. In most of the other conditions, the cause is likely to be associated with some general condition such as vitamin deficiency, a wasting disease, or something else.

far removed from the nails themselves. In such cases, of course, local treatment is inadequate and the distant cause must be identified if possible and appropriate remedies undertaken. Complete cure is not always possible.

MAROONED CAT
PERU, Ill. (P) — Wandering Ratzy, a pure white cat owned by Mrs. William Janz, is back home after five nights out with a reasonable reason.

Ratzy was let out on a hot night and failed to wake up the family with its usual meows the following morning. A town-wide search failed to locate the cat. A passerby noticed a white cat on a roof a block away from Ratzy's home. It was Ratzy. The cat had climbed a pole about two feet from a building, jumped onto the roof but had been unable to make it back the same way.

"A MIGHTY ACT OF FAITH"

The President of the United States in his address to the World Council of Churches Assembly last month proposed that Christians throughout the world join in "a mighty act of faith," which, he said, might take the form of a simultaneous personal prayer for peace. How practical is his suggestion? What would happen if we took him seriously? What are the implications for us as Christians? This is the theme of the sermon by the pastor of First Presbyterian Church this Sunday, Sept. 12.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.,
Associated Press News Analyst
The new Southeast Asia collective security defense treaty doesn't carry anything on its face which would seem likely to frighten the Communists very badly.

Five nations which fall into the "Western" category have formed a united front with three lesser Asiatic nations to oppose further Red expansion at each other's expense, and to extend the benefits to three Indo-Chinese states which are not members.

The treaty carries virtually no military impact, beyond the implication that Pakistan, Thailand, the Philippines and the Indo-Chinese states will be made militarily and economically stronger so they can carry some weight in future arguments. Thailand is the only really new addition to the front.

The two states with the strongest anti-Communist armies in Asia—Formosa and South Korea—and the one with the greatest military potential, Japan, are not included.

India is actually opposed to the project, and helped keep Ceylon and Burma away from Manila. All the pact says about military action, in effect, is that if anything comes up each member will decide whether to fight or not. The machinery for consultation, and even for action if that is decided upon, will be ready, but there will be no coordinated force at hand as under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There are, of course, grounds for satisfaction that a united political front has been formed between East and West as a sort of symbol. The fact that something akin to the Atlantic charter has been preferred to the East by the West may have a certain impact. But the real truth remains that the individual pledges, treaties and agreements between the United States, Formosa, Japan, South Korea, Pakistan and the Philippines are far stronger and more definitive than the new treaty.

Bitter Sage

By Frank Gruber

XXXIV

WES TANCRED picked up his carpetbag, which still stood beside the late publisher's desk, and carried it to the rot at the rear of the shop. He set it down and opened it up and then he heard the door open. He whirled, then relaxed.

A group of men were coming into the shop. Gil Packard was in the lead. Tancred recognized the others as Judge Kraft, Prosecutor Glassman and two men who had been elected to the city council along with the others.

"Mr. Tancred," said Gil Packard, as the spokesman for the group, "we're here because we've all just read this week's Star."

Tancred regarded Packard narrowly. "Yes?"

"We represent the duly elected officials of Sage City and the County of Sage. We were legally elected and although we haven't as yet performed any duties, we intend to do so."

Tancred waited. Packard shot a quick look around his little group, saw that no one had weakened, and drew a deep breath. "On condition that you accept the job of town marshal."

Tancred stared at them. "You know that I am Wes Tancred?"

"We know it."

The door opened again and Lee Kinnaid came in. Tancred said, "Lee, they want me to be marshal."

"Have they promised you any special kind of funeral?" Kinnaid held aloft a copy of the Star.

"If necessary, we'll form a vigilante committee," Packard said, angrily.

"Then you don't need a marshal," Tancred said quickly.

Herb Glassman stepped forward. He threw up his hand.

"Wait a minute, Tancred."

attached were presented the guests. Refreshments of ice cream in Dixie cups, cake, Kool-Ade, candy, and bubble gum were served by the mother.

A 3 c Bill McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis McGee, from Valdosta, Ga., is home on a 15-day leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith spent the Labor Day weekend at Rush Lake, near Cambridge, Minn., with his brother, Earl L. Smith, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Carriger, Patterson were surprised by their children Sunday when the group gathered for a basket dinner at their home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Carriger are 83 years of age and are in only fair health. They are

There'll be no vigilante committee. I'll go along with the rest on most anything—as long as it's legal. But just because Jacob Fugger's broken every law in the book doesn't mean that we should."

Judge Kraft cleared his throat. "Glassman's right, we've got to uphold the law."

Kinnaid touched the bandage on his head. "Last week I arrested a man named Smith. I did it quite legal-like and he was taken away from me in a very illegal-like manner."

He pointed to Glassman. "Did you issue any warrants, Prosecutor?" He whirled on Judge Kraft. "Did you sentence anyone last week, Judge?"

"Don't do it, Wes. They'll let you go out and face Eric Stratemeyer and Dave Heim and they'll be behind you . . . a long ways behind. So far behind that the bullets can't hit them."

PACKARD asked savagely, "Have you gone over to Fugger's side, Kinnaid?"

Kinnaid grinned crookedly and walked out of the shop. When the door was closed the councilmen looked uneasily at one another. Tancred drew a deep breath.

"I've thrown it in Fugger's teeth. I've got to back it up . . . I'll take the job."

The councilmen shouted and began to converge on Tancred. He held up his hand. "I'll take the badge, but I'm warning you—I won't give it back until it's all over. I mean that, no matter how quickly you change your minds, I'll see it through."

"I won't quit!" shouted Gil Packard. "I promise you that."

Tancred walked back to the cot and reaching in, took out a heavy bundle. He unrolled it, exposing his revolver. "This gun," he told his visitors, "is the gun that killed Sam Older. I'm telling you that now because it's going to be thrown into your faces . . . that I'm the man who killed Sam Older. Yes, I killed him. I'll tell you this, too. I received no reward for killing Older. I killed him to keep him from killing me. There are no charges against me—anywhere. That's as much as I'm going to say about myself—and Sam Older."

He spun the cylinder of the revolver, saw that it was working smoothly and thrust the gun under the waistband of his trousers. Nodding to the councilmen he went past them and left the shop.

On South Street, Tancred crossed to the jail. As he neared the door it was opened and Chuck Gorey stepped out.

"Well, if it ain't Mr. Tancred," Gorey said, thinly.

"Give me your badge, Gorey," Tancred said. "You're through as marshal of Sage City."

"What?" gasped Gorey. Then his face turned a sudden crimson. "What're you trying to pull?"

"The city council's appointed me marshal," Tancred said in a deadly calm voice.

"What city council? I mean—they got no right."

TANCRED held out his hand. "Give me your badge."

Gorey's eyes dropped to the revolver, the first time he had ever seen Tancred with a gun. A sudden white came into his voice. "You're trying to make me draw on you."

"For the last time, give me that badge."

A palsy shook Gorey and he had trouble unpinning the badge. Tancred took it and pinned it on his shirt. "Put your keys on the desk inside," he said evenly.

"Then get out—and don't cross me, because if you do, I'll kill you."

He turned and walked away. Gorey stared at Tancred's back and the temptation to draw his gun and shoot Tancred must have been deep. But something kept him from doing it; fear that Tancred, in spite of a bullet in his back, might still kill him.

Cubs Take Nightcap 3-0 After Giants Win First Game 7-6

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago Cubs forced the league-leading New York Giants to settle for a split Thursday, grabbing a 3-0 victory in the second game after losing the first one in the last of the ninth 7-6 when Hank Thompson laid down a perfect squeeze bunt with the bases loaded and two out.

Clyde McCullough homered for the first Chicago run in the nightcap and drove home the final tally in the ninth with a single.

The split left the Giants four games ahead of the runner-up Milwaukee Braves, who were idle, and 5½ in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who beat St. Louis 10-1.

The Giants had filled the bases with one out on reliever Jim Davis, left-hander fanned dangerous Al Dark, putting it up to Thompson, who had homered in the second.

Thompson laid a beautiful bunt down the third base line to score Don Mueller for the winning run. Mueller had doubled to start the inning.

Trailing 6-3, the Giants led the

St. Louis Interested In Chicago Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Walter Wolfner, managing director of the Chicago Cardinals, acknowledged Thursday he has been approached about a possible transfer of the professional football team to St. Louis.

Under questioning at a news conference, Wolfner said he was contacted by Howard Baer, chairman of the board of directors of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce.

Wolfner, a former St. Louisian, said: "I believe St. Louis would support big league football, too, but there would have to be tangible evidence of a guaranteed interest before I'd even consider moving."

Cardinal losses, he said, are absorbed by the Hawthorne race track, part of the properties he manages. "Therefore, the Cardinals are not for sale and we are seeking no partners," Wolfner said.

The Cardinals are here for an exhibition against the Philadelphia Eagles Saturday night.

Big Ten Officials Agree On Recruiting Regulations

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten Conference athletic directors voted Thursday to retain its present recruiting regulations but decided to look further into its present plan of financial aid to athletes.

The directors, who closed a two-day meeting in conjunction with Western Conference faculty representatives, said no further recommendations or suggestions were made in regard to the recruiting of athletes because the directors considered that no substantial changes from the present rules were necessary.

However, Kenneth L. Wilson, conference commissioner, was instructed by the directors to study a method of "cut-off dates" beyond which the Big Ten's program of proper recruiting could not go. A spokesman said this was intended to stop what he termed a 12-month procession of probable recruits appearing on conference campuses.

The directors said the Big Ten's plan which limits financial aid to athletes of proven need and of demonstrated academic abilities was adequate and workable, but that certain amendments and modifications will be considered at the Big Ten's annual winter meeting in Detroit Dec. 8-11. No further consideration of present recruiting regulations is on the agenda for the December sessions, the directors said. However, the financial aid program has "enough fundamental merit to warrant further study in December, especially the method of determining proven need in the case of athletes."

In other actions, the directors voted to extend the period of halves between conference football games from 15 minutes to 20 minutes to permit the university bands to perform. The 20-minute interval is not compulsory and does not apply to non conference games.

Voted to boost the fees of Big Ten basketball officials from $65 to $75 a game on conference floors.

Decided to study the question of Big Ten football and basketball coaches who are selected to coach all star games. No specific all star contests were mentioned in the proposal.

Dodgers Pound Cards 10-1; Podres Hurls

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn beat Miami 10-1 in a slugfest Thursday night, and pitcher Don Newcombe hauled out a 10-1 victory. Newcombe, who was 1-0 in his first start, pitched a complete game, allowing only one run, two hits and one walk.

The Dodgers' offense was led by Jackie Robinson, who hit a home run in the first inning, and by Duke Snider, who hit a home run in the fourth. Snider also had two hits and three runs.

The Cards' pitcher, Alvin Dark, was hit hard by the Dodgers' offense, allowing 10 runs, 11 hits and 10 walks in 9 1/2 innings.

As Long As We Won, That's What Counts: Coleman

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP)—As long as we win, that's what counts, Joe Coleman said Thursday after an outburst in the eighth inning of a 1-0 victory over the New York Yankees.

A brawl broke out in the eighth inning when Coleman, who was 1-0 in his first start, pitched a complete game, allowing only one run, two hits and one walk.

The Yankees' pitcher, Alvin Dark, was hit hard by the Dodgers' offense, allowing 10 runs, 11 hits and 10 walks in 9 1/2 innings.

Sievers, Lemon Homer As Nats Beat Chisox 2-0

CHICAGO (AP)—Home runs by Roy Sievers, 24th of the year, and rookie Jim Lemon, his first, gave the Washington Nats a 2-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday.

Washington made only one other hit, a single by Lemon, off the veteran right-hander, Harry Dorish, who lost a brilliant pitching duel to southpaw Chuck Stobbs, who also allowed three hits.

The Nats left one on base, the Sox two.

White Hall High Announces Nine Game Grid Card

The White Hall Maroons started football practice last week with 61 boys reporting for workouts the opening day. Listed among the early arrivals were eight returning lettermen.

The boys have been working out daily under the supervision of Coach Howard Berline and his assistants, Virgil Staples and Billy McCarthy.

The Maroons finished last season with a 3-6 record in the tough Illinois Valley Conference. However, Coach Berline is optimistic about this year's team. The line is heavy and experienced. James McClure, Robert Hart, Danny Westedge and Dale Roe are returning linemen.

The backfield will be light but it should have plenty of speed. Larry Ford, a tackle of last year, will run from a backfield spot this year. The other returning backfield man is Paul Carter.

The Maroons open their nine game schedule when they meet Astoria on the home field September 17. Seven of the games will be conference battles.

Schedule:

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Reserve ends Gene Kovich and Don George were featured pass catchers as Coach Terry Brennan sent Notre Dame through long drills on pass defense and offense Thursday.

End Dan Shannon and Paul Hornum, sophomore quarterback, returned to practice after nursing injuries for three days.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The University of Missouri football squad went through its first scrimmage Thursday. Coach Don Faurot judged his lineups a bit but said most of the changes were temporary to fill gaps caused by minor injuries.

CO-CAPTAIN QUILTS

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Jerry Helgeson, guard and co-captain of the University of Minnesota football team, quit football Thursday because of recurrence of an eye ailment.

He was hurt in the final 1953 game with Wisconsin and as a result has suffered poor vision after blows on the head. He was knocked out during a drill Wednesday.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

There have been quite a few practical jokes connected with the baseball scene the past few years but the one pulled on Jackie Robinson yesterday was an all time low. It was reported he received a phone call during the Dodger-Cardinal game saying his son was ill and for him to rush home.

—O—

Robinson left the ball park and hurried to his home in Connecticut. It wasn't long until he was back in Ebbets Field but since he had left the game he couldn't return to the Dodger lineup. It was all a "big joke." His family was okay. This incident didn't have any bearing on the game which the Dodgers won 10-1 but if a pennant was involved it could have meant a great deal. We bet they start checking phone calls in the future.

—O—

In this week's copy of the weekly magazine Sports Illustrated there is a story saying it's impossible for a better to follow the ball. In the past every coach and manager in the country tells his players to "follow the ball until it meets the bat." Now, through research by Dr. Alfred W. Hubbard and Charles N. Seng of the University of Illinois comes word that the batter loses sight of the ball when it comes within 8 to 15 feet of home plate.

—O—

The Nichols Park Championship Golf Tournament is entering its final round. Harold Jewell defeated Chick Reynolds five-up in semifinals action yesterday. This pits Jewell against Richard Brennan in the finals.

Cleveland Stretches Lead To 5½ With 5-4 Win Over A's In 10th

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's pennant-bound Indians rallied late and hung on to take a donated run in the 11th inning Thursday for a 5-4 win over the Philadelphia Athletics. It put them 5½ games ahead of the second-place New York Yankees.

With 14 games to play — The Yankees have 15—the Tribe opened a long lead over Casey Stengel's staggering crew with an odd finish that produced their 100th victory of the season against 49 losses.

The bases were loaded, Hal Naragon was at bat, and Ed Baruschy, Philadelphia's third pitcher, was on the mound. Baruschy threw three straight balls, cut one straight across the plate and then walked in the winning run.

Cleveland had only seven hits, while four Cleveland pitchers were allowing the visitors nine. The winner was Hal Newhouse, who entered the game in the 10th.

It took rallies in the eighth and ninth innings to give the Indians an extra lease on the game. Dave Pope's pinch runner with none on started the drive in the eighth. Al Smith walked and came home on Bobby Avila's double in the same inning. In the ninth Al Rosen, walked, took second on a ground out, and scored on Dave Philley's single.

Both managers flooded the field with players in an attempt to swing the decision. Cleveland's Al Lopes used every available man except part of his pitching staff.

The A's Bill Wilson hit a two-run homer in the second after Elmer Valo had walked.

Starter Bob Feller, seeking the honor of being the first pitcher to win a Cleveland club's 100th victory, bowed out for a pinch hitter after hurling the first six innings. Not since the 1946 Boston Red Sox won 104 has an American League team topped the 100-game-win mark, although the Yankees won 92 last year when they capped the first season.

Nixon Hurls Red Sox To 8-0 Win Over Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—The Boston Red Sox took a firm hold on fourth place in the American League Thursday as right-hander Willard Nixon blanked Detroit 8-0 on four well-spaced singles.

The win pushed the Red Sox 3½ games ahead of the original 50th-place Tigers.

Nixon's teammates gave him more than enough runs—four—in the third inning. The first came across when starter Al Aber hit Sam Mels with the bases full. Jim Piersall chased him home. Nixon blanked Detroit 8-0 on four well-spaced singles.

Slaughter's Lucky Single Only Hit As Joe Coleman Sets Yankees Down 1-0

BALTIMORE (AP)—A lucky single in the eighth inning by Enos Slaughter was the only hit the New York Yankees got Thursday as Joe Coleman who pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 1-0 victory.

Slaughter hit a grounder right at second baseman Bobby Young to start the eighth inning. But the ball took a sudden bad hop and went over Young's head into right field for a single.

Slaughter was forced at second by the next batter.

The 32-year-old Coleman let only two Yankees get as far as second base. The only time New York had two men on base at the same time was in the ninth when Coleman put them there by hitting a batter and walking another. He left them there by forcing the dangerous Yogi Berra and Irv Noren to fly out.

Coleman walked five and struck out two in his steady performance. Baltimore won the game in the fourth when Clint Courtney singled to score Dick Kryhoski from second.

Hog Prices Drop, Receipts Heavy

CHICAGO (P)—Hog prices dropped sharply Thursday as producers sent large numbers of hogs to market. Receipts at Chicago totaled 11,000 head, far more than the trade had expected, and other Midwest terminals also obtained heavy receipts.

Butcher hogs sank $1.00 to $1.50 a hundred pounds while sows were off $1.00 to $1.25. The top price was $20.00 a hundred pounds, down $1.25 from Wednesday. Most choice 190 to 260-pound butchers were purchased at $19.25 to $19.75.

Livestock men said hog prices normally decline at this time of year as the spring pig crop starts moving to market. This year the run of such pigs has started earlier than usual, and at lighter weights, they added.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (P)—A modest rally late in the afternoon left the bond market thoroughly mixed Thursday.

Railroads and industrials started downward in slow trading and remained depressed most of the session. But during the final hour some carriers and most industrials developed support, firming the entire corporate list. Utilities fluctuated narrowly.

U. S. government bonds also ended on an irregular note, partially reversing an earlier downward movement.

Changes in both the corporate and government lists were generally minor fractions.

"Big Board" volume declined to $2,574,000 par value from $2,960,000 Wednesday.

In new financing an underwriting syndicate managed by Halsey, Stuart & Co. Thursday captured 60 million dollars of 35-year first mortgage bonds of Illinois Central Railroad Co. in competitive bidding.

Top bid was 99.30 for 3 1/2 per cent obligations. Reoffering to investors is slated at par value. The road will use proceeds to refund 3 1/2 per cent bonds due 1982.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (P)—Butcher hogs fell $1.00 to $1.50 and sows $1.00 to $1.25 in a slow market Thursday as salable receipts totaled 11,000 head, 4,000 more than expected.

Buyers paid $19.25 to $19.75 for most choice 190 to 260-pound butchers but a few loads and lots reached $19.85 to $20.00. The latter price was for the year set Aug. 31. Most choice 190 to 260-pound butchers brought $19.25 to $19.75. Sows sold at $15.25 to $19.25.

Steers were steady to $1.00 lower and heifers steady to 50 cents down. A few loads of prime steers were taken at $27.00 to $28.25, the top. Most good and choice kinds moved at $21.00 to $26.00. Good to high choice heifers sold from $19.50 to $24.00.

Cows were steady to 50 cents lower at $10.00 to $13.50 for utility and commercial. Salable receipts totaled 5,000.

Steady prices were paid for lambs in an active trade, good and choice native spring types going at $18.50 to $20.50. A few small lots of choice to prime reached $21.00. Salable receipts totaled 2,000.

RYE CONTINUES PRICE UPSWING

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (P)—A continued advance in rye and a sharp late run-up in soybeans featured dealings in grains on the Board of Trade Thursday.

All rye futures set new seasonal highs, as they have done each day this week. Buying again was based in large part on small crops in the United States and Canada and hopes of a pickup in export business because of poor crops in parts of Europe.

Wheat was subjected to mild hedging pressure throughout the day and lacked aggressive speculative support. Corn was quite firm but oats were held in check after Wednesday's upturn.

Wheat closed 1/4 to 2 cents lower, corn 1/4-1/2 higher, oats 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, rye 1/4-2/5 higher, soybeans 1/2 to 7 cents higher and laid 10 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower.

A heavy run of hogs at Midwest livestock terminals depressed lard prices. Lard held unchanged at 166 cents a pound.

A possibility of rains in the soybean belt, which would delay harvesting of the new crop, was behind the short covering in September soybeans. Cash bean meal continued its sharp fall, selling at $73.50 to $74.00 a ton against $75.00 to $78.00 Wednesday.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (P)—Railroad, aircraft and steel shares set the pace for a fairly broad rally in the stock market Thursday. Advances of one to two points developed among the leaders and a few rails were up better than three.

Wall Street sources underlined the fact that the carriers were in the lead. The action of the rail shares often indicates which way the market will go.

The Associated Press 60-stock average rose 50 cents to close at $132.40. The industrials advanced 50 cents, the rails $1 and the utilities 10 cents.

Volume totaled 1,700,000 shares against 1,790,000 Wednesday, but brokers were quick to point out that trading quickened with the rally. When, earlier in the day, prices were drifting, volume was remarkably small.

On the American Stock Exchange, prices were mostly higher. Volume was 750,000 shares, up from 660,000 Wednesday.

Thousands Reported Injured

In London, Adm. John H. Casady, commander of U. S. Naval forces in the eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean, ordered the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean to give help if asked.

Before the floodwaters reached the Orleansville airport, several plane loads of the worst injured victims were flown to Algiers.

Late reports said most of the survivors were evacuating Orleansville and other stricken towns, taking to the roads in any vehicles they could find or on foot, carrying a few prized possessions and heading westward toward Oran or southward toward Taret.

More than 26,000 Orleansville residents are native Algerian Moslems, and about 6,000 are Europeans.

It is an important agricultural trading center for a rich farming area. The neighboring villages are all farming communities.

BELIEVE REDS IN BERLIN HOLD TWO U.S. BROTHERS

BERLIN (P)—Communist police were believed Thursday night to be holding two American brothers missing since Tuesday in a new East-West border mystery.

The Americans were reported seized by East German peoples' police three days ago as they drove on the Autobahn just outside Berlin at a point where the superhighway passes through the Soviet zone.

They were identified by West Berlin police as William Henry Starr, 29, an electronics expert, and James Starr, an oil worker, both of Westville, N.J.

Beyond that, investigators uncovered only fragmentary information on their backgrounds and the reason they were in Berlin.

Committee Rules On Use Today

Watkins said in a severe tone, "I regarded as a diversion."

McCarthy started to speak again but Watkins, plainly showing anger, gave the floor to Sen. Ervin (D-NC) instead.

Then McCarthy stood up his features rigid with an appearance of suppressed rage. Slowly he turned his back on the committee, and just as slowly he walked away—perhaps 10 paces—from the witness table.

With the air of a man counting to 10 in order to control himself, and then repeating the process a few times, he stared at the high ceiling of the marble-walled caucus room. Then, still slowly, he walked back to his chair and sat down.

When he gained recognition again, he asked in clipped tones if at Friday's hearing he could "have the privilege without interruption" of stating his position.

Watkins said he thought McCarthy already had done so.

He said McCarthy certainly could speak tomorrow. He said he would give him "the fullest opportunity" to express

City Precincts Will Be Redistricted For Primaries In April

Redistricting of Jacksonville voting precincts will become effective on the day after the general election in November, and will be placed in full operation at the April primaries in 1955, the Morgan county board of commissioners decreed in a resolution passed Thursday.

Shifting of the precinct boundaries has been under consideration for many months, due to annexation of territory and the growth in population of the city.

The subject of redistricting has been before the city council and county board numerous times.

The county board adopted a redistricting resolution last June 21. Redistricting of precincts involves much detailed work on the part of the county clerk's office, including the rechecking of registration lists, appointment of new judges, and preparation of official notices.

State's Attorney Albert W. Hall advised the county board that he did not believe there was reasonable time before the November election for the clerk's office to accomplish the many intricate details. In consequence of the opinion, the board Thursday passed a resolution declaring the effective date of redistricting to be the day following the next general election in November.

The resolution directed the proper officers of the county to take all necessary steps to place the plan in operation prior to the next primary election, in accordance with the redistricting resolution adopted June 21, 1954.

Redistricting plans have been in the process for a long period under direction of Alderman Harris Rowe of the judiciary committee of the city council. The county board does not have jurisdiction over the arrangement of wards, which is a function of the city council.

Under the proposed plan considered by the city there will be seven wards instead of the present four.

Maps are being prepared to outline the changes in boundaries of city precincts and acquaint voters with the new arrangement which becomes effective next April. Officials say that the public can obtain a much clearer understanding of precinct changes from maps than from a detailed description of the boundaries.

TEST SHOWS BIG BASS RULE LOCAL LAKE

Leslie Boston, lake custodian, (left) holds a couple of whoppers which fisheries biologist Al Lopinot of Gillespie stands by after shocking fish with electrical apparatus, to ascertain their condition.

This is the equipment used by Al Lopinot, fisheries biologist of the Illinois Department of Conservation, to survey condition of fish in Lake Jacksonville. The electrodes extend on each side of the boat. When dropped in the water they discharge a current which stuns fish but does not harm them permanently.

Lake Jacksonville, located south of the city, is full of large black bass but the general condition of fish in the huge reservoir is poor, according to Al Lopinot, of Gillespie, fisheries biologist in this area for the Illinois Department of Conservation. The biologist spent several hours in Jacksonville Wednesday making a survey of the tiny tribe in the lake.

Mr. Lopinot came to Jacksonville Wednesday morning with elaborate equipment to carry on his work. He was assisted by Leslie Boston, custodian of Lake Jacksonville.

Alderman Allen Kelly was an interested spectator at the lake while Lopinot and Boston carried on their work.

Lopinot had a boat equipped with electrodes carrying 230 volts of electricity. The electrodes were lowered into the water and the motor boat moved along the shore of Lake Jacksonville near the boat club. Shortly after the electrodes were placed in the water, hundreds of gizzard shad, stunned by the electric shock, started floating on the surface. Next large black bass appeared and were placed in the boat with nets. Several bass weighing six pounds were captured together with a few bluegill and crappie.

When the fishermen had filled a large tub the boat was brought to shore and the fish were measured for weight and length. After this information was written on an envelope Lopinot took a few scales from the fish, which were placed in an envelope.

When his survey is completed here the information will be sent to the Natural History Survey at the University of Illinois for analysis.

Tells Age By Scales
The age of the fish can be ascertained by studying the scales, Lopinot said. The scales are similar to the rings of a tree by which age is determined.

Lopinot, after studying the bass taken from the lake, said that from all appearances the large bass are in fine condition. He attributed this to the fact that the lake is full of gizzard shad providing plenty of food for the bass.

While there are plenty of large bass in the lake, the biologist said, the small ones are scarce.

The deceased was a member of the Wilmington Baptist church in Patterson and of the Royal Neighbors Camp.

The body was taken to the Dawdy funeral home in White Hall but will be taken to the residence northwest of Patterson late Friday afternoon where funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon with the Reverend Ernest Dawdy officiating. Burial will be in the Pine Tree Cemetery.

'Untold Stories' Help Sooth Anti-Yank Feeling

Do Englishmen who hold a respect for Americans have to carry on an educational campaign to convince the rank and file of their own countrymen that Americans are not all "heels," social unfits, or no-count oafs with a D-minus rating in the international scheme of things?

A letter from Harrow, Middlesex, would indicate that the people of the United States are on trial in public esteem in Queen Elizabeth's realm.

C. Jones, 18 Radstock avenue, Kenton Harrow Middlesex, is trying to straighten things out—his letter received by the Journal Courier Thursday rings with the sincerity and friendliness that once prompted Edmund Burke to deliver his famous address on conciliation with the Colonies.

Mr. Jones, writing to the editor of the Journal Courier enclosed a clipping from an English journal captioned: "Untold Stories About Americans in Britain."

Said Mr. Jones in his note: "I feel sure that this will make nice reading in your paper. I like hundreds more, have a great deal to thank you good people in the U. S. A. for untold kindnesses to many unknown people without a thought of any reward. Thank goodness that the people with unkind thoughts are in the minority and to you all I say, Good Luck and God bless all your efforts."

"Yours faithfully," C. Jones.

"P. S. Although I am not young I still hope to look at your country." Mr. Jones did not explain why he stalked out the Journal Courier in which to make an apology for some of his countrymen, who have forgotten or overlooked the fact that American blood has been spilled copiously at times when England was groggy from military assaults.

Mr. Jones also gave an impression that he was chiding his countrymen who have forgotten or overlooked the billions of dollars that have had one-way passage from the U. S. A. to England, while American taxpayers staggered under the burden with but feeble protest. We take one of the "Untold Stories" by Alan Brockhouse at random from the clipping Mr. Jones sent along.

"One day last week American Air Force corporal Sam Keegan of Illinois left Burtonwood air base and went to a basement flat in Eccles Oldroad, Salford, where 65 year old widow Mrs. Annie Wilson lives alone."

"He sat Mrs. Wilson down before a coal fire and made her a cup of tea. Then he rolled up his sleeves and did her weekly washing. Believed that the immediate past recorder for the Women of the Moose, Helen Templin, received a gold star for her services to the lodge. We are proud to offer you this chance to win an all-expense trip to the Hawaiian Islands absolutely FREE! We are conducting this contest in all our 51 stores, so enter today in any one you wish. Hurry, the contest closes September 20, 1954.

The prices in this ad effective through Saturday in Springfield, Decatur, Jacksonville, Panama, Taylorville.

HERE'S WHAT YOUR TRIP INCLUDES!

Wherever you live in the United States, you will be in Hawaii in one day when you fly Northwest Orient Airlines' fast Douglas DC-6B. You will leave from the airport and hence to the Northwest Airlines Port closest to your home where you will be transferred to a Northwest Orient DC-6B flight to Seattle. (Port of debarkation).

As a visitor from the U.S., you need no passport and pay no custom duties. You are a "malihini" (visitor) and will be greeted with the traditional token of welcome, the lei.

Thrilling sights and activities abound in the Hawaiian Islands—swimming and surfing riding at the spectacular, mile-long Waikiki Beach. The dramatic spectacle of its two active volcanoes—Mauna Loa and Kilauea. Rainbow Falls, where the 2000 lava flow will still warm your shoes... Giant Haleakala Crater where multi-colored cones of cinders tower over 1000 feet above you.

The magical names of Hawaii spell romance and adventure... "Honolulu", "Waikiki", "Pearl Harbor" and the magnificent "Nuuanu Pali" with its majestic view.

Eight tropical volcanic peaks comprise the chain of islands known officially as Territory of Hawaii, U.S.A. These islands are Kauai, Niihau, Oahu, Molokai, Lanai, Maui, Kahoolawe, and Hawaii. Each is famous in its own right for scenic beauty where the unusual is the commonplace. Each should be visited if one is to experience all the wonders of Hawaii.

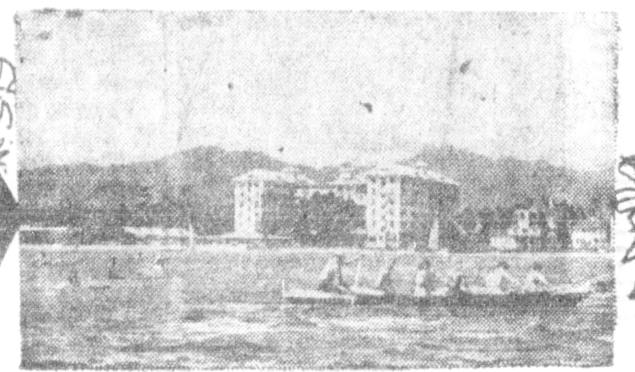

Long before you leave the islands, you will no longer be considered a "malihini".

Couples Class At Grace Methodist Enters 17th Year

The Couple's Class of Grace Methodist church will begin its 17th year with a potluck at the church next Sunday evening, Sept. 12, at 6:30. This meeting was to have been in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Marston, but due to the illness of Mrs. Marston, it will be held at the church.

The committee in charge of this first meeting is as follows: Dr. Frank Marston, host chairman, Ray Steinheimer, Jack Thomas, John Conant, and Dr. Earl S. Fellows. Committees for the year have been set up, and it is hoped as many couples will attend as possible to discuss and formulate interesting plans for the year.

Dr. O. F. Galloway, Professor of Education at MacMurray College, is the teacher of the Couple's Class, having taught since the class was organized from members of a Sunday night church group known as the Couple's Club. The original club does not meet now, but most of the members joined the Couple's Class, and attend the potluck which meets on the second Sunday evening of each month. The class welcomes new members at any time, where they will find Dr. Galloway not only teaches, but welcomes discussion by those attending.

The officers for the coming year are: president, Dr. Earl S. Fellows; vice president, Bob Wallace; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. A. Dawson. As has been the custom in the past, the November meeting will be Ladies Night, which means the men cook and serve the dinner, as well as plan the program. A Diesel Streamliner or the "Old 97?"

The "Old 97" was a steam locomotive. There never was a better one. It ran for fifty years. It proved beyond any question of a doubt that the steam locomotive was a success.

But today the Diesel locomotive has taken over. Name any major railroad . . . Santa Fe, New York Central, Pennsylvania . . . every one is just about 100% Diesel.

Why?

A Diesel locomotive does a better job than the steam locomotive. It is easier to operate; it takes less maintenance; it is a better all-around piece of equipment.

The best engineering brains in the country developed the Diesel locomotive and they produced a locomotive that hauls more tons of freight at a lower cost per ton.

Many people consider Concrete Water Pipe as the Diesel of the Waterworks field.

It was developed by a group of engineers who weren't satisfied. They wanted a better pipe. A pipe that would be easy and economical to lay; a pipe that would be ageless when buried underground; a pipe that would not corrode inside or outside.

They came up with Concrete Pressure Pipe. It turned out to be better because (just like the Diesel) it will deliver more gallons of water at a lower cost per gallon.

Just like the major railroads were the first to take over the Diesel, the big cities in the country are the ones who first used Concrete Pipe. Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and Louisville are a few in this part of the country. Denver has used Concrete Pipe for 40 years. And out in California, the Los Angeles water supply comes 100 miles over the mountains in Concrete Pipe.

Lots of smaller cities use Concrete Pipe, too. A few in Illinois are Joliet, McCook, Alton, Bedford Park, Moline, Evanston, Champaign, and East St. Louis.

One reason these cities and towns like this advanced design pipe is because concrete is one of the very best materials to have as a pipe lining. There is something about it that makes the water flow easier over its surface. And of course it can't corrode. In fact, it is so satisfactory that concrete is now being used inside pipe of other materials to form a better lining.

The cost of Concrete Pipe is interesting, too. Just like the Diesel locomotive, it costs less in the long run.

But the original cost is what surprises you. Under some circumstances you can buy and install a 30 inch Concrete Pipe for not much more than a 24 inch pipe of other materials, giving you a pipe over 50% bigger at little extra cost. This makes concrete an intelligent investment for the future . . . assuring you of an ample water supply for generations to come.

If you were to ask the waterworks engineers from St. Louis, Denver or Louisville, they might add a word of caution. They might say, "Of course the first cost is not the only cost. You want a pipeline that will last. And that is a fortunate thing about concrete. It not only costs less, but it is "at home" in the ground. At it lays in the soil year after year it tends to get harder and harder — returning to its natural state — stone. It is the ideal material for a water supply line. We find it completely satisfactory."

We believe you'll find Concrete Pipe completely satisfactory, too.
